

DREAM IT

ON REFLECTION

The humble mirror is a mainstay of airy, bright bathrooms by bouncing light around a room to create the illusion of space. This custom mirror (LEFT), designed by Alex Gourlay of Vellum Interiors and made by Wilmont Joinery, is generous in size to suit the bespoke double vanity topped with Calacatta marble and framed in timber to match the bathroom's traditional look. Design: Vellum Interiors (velluminteriors.com.au)

HANGING AROUND

Another sure-fire way to make a petite bathroom feel spacious is to keep the design simple and streamlined. In this bathroom (BOTTOM LEFT), the owners have also chosen wall-hung cabinetry with push-to-open doors so there isn't the visual clutter of handles. Another trick is to have a bank of storage in white, which then recedes into the white background. Design: Resident Avenue (residentavenue.com.au)

CLEAN AND SERENE

This small space packs a lot of bathroom (BELOW): a mirrored wall cabinet, wall-hung vanity, a shower and a bath. This room's white palette with chrome accents and compact elements, such as the basin and bath from Bathroomware House, keeps everything airy and breezy.

TACTILE STYLE

The owners of this Victorian home (OPPOSITE) in Williamstown felt the house was suffering from a bad 1990s hangover. Period features were restored to the facade, but the bathrooms had a contemporary overlay, using neutral tones with Ocean Grey Honed tiles on floors and walls, and a feature wall of the Self 'Mood' white matte tiles laid in a herringbone pattern. The shower is a Phoenix 'Vivid Slimline' twin shower. Design: Basset Lobaza Architects (bassetlobaza.com.au) and Melissa Lunardon (melissalunardon.com)
